banquet. Master of Ceremonies, Larry Briscoe, presided over the program. Robert C. Briscoe, president of the Board of Education, spoke before the meal was begun.

Queen Sits at Head Table The retiring queen, Barbara Ellis, and her attendants, as well as the four officers, sat at the head table. Designed by Miss Mary Kline, the plaques behind the members featured scenes from daily American life. Also carrying out the theme were the program cards, drawn by Barbara Ellis. On the banquet tables were bouquets of flowers along with white and silver tapers and flags of the United States. Members of the Board of Education, their wives, school officials and other guests were seated at the center table.

Sophomores Serve Served by the sophomore class, under the direction of Miss Shirley Drick, the meal consisted of ham and pineapple cocktail, turkey, sage dressing, green bean, whipped potatoes, baked beans, and fruit compote. Parker served the strawberries and cream.

Senior Will

Connie Fletcher wills her ability to flirt to Irene Neely.

Ronnie Darst wills Elaine to anyone big enough to get her away.

Chuck Scheib wills his big feet to Kay Darst, who can already almost match him.

Roger Hughs wills to Garlan Old and Danny Fenton the ability to lock doors, unlatch hoods, and pull spark plug wires, although they have already had considerable experience.

Richard Carlin leaves his ability to pull leg muscles and all his excuses to keep from running in track to Bob Tilley who needs some for next year.

Marcia Astle wills her ability to get a diamond before graduation to any Junior girls who might like the idea, since some of them seem so inclined.

Judy McQuerry leaves her habit of getting confused in Mr. Hester's class to the Sophomores who will be using it in History next year.

Lester Van Juss leaves his ability to sleep in Study Hall to Mrs. Clevenger who could use it to make Study Hall more interesting.

Eddie Popp wills his quiet personality to Lynda Hensley who should find it very useful.

Beth Flair wills her driving ability to all the future drivers ed. students and hopes that Mr. Hester survives.

Kenney Tilley wills his "shades" to Mr. Hester who we know wants them because he has been trying so hard to get them in Government.

Frank Yeoman wills his ability to blush to Mrs. Scott who really doesn't need any more, but is already used to it.

Cloma Wilson leaves her ability to attract red heads to Elaine McColm who may be able to dye Ronnie's hair red.

Marvin Fields would like to leave his brown nose to Keith Austin, and hopes that Keith will have better luck with it than he did.

Charla Hughs wills her ability to giggle and chew gum in Government class to all the Junior girls, and one Sophomore, Helen Elliott.

Cheryl Clevenger wills her sense for smelling out lovers at the school picnic to Linda Lane who will find it quite interesting.

Carol Stimpert wills her ability to drive Science teachers insane to Karon Kirk who will need it in Chemistry next year.

Senior Prophecy

We the members of the Senior Class of 1962 in order to form a more different heaven, establish our souls in this celestial place to insure an uproar and provide for the common entertainment of all those admitted.

Now the roll is called. Hark, I hear the sound of beautiful names. First is Marcia Astle Shultz. M standing for mammy. She was married the year following her departure from good BHS. She had a happy homelife with many blissful events.

Ah, here comes a fisherman. What in heavens name is he doing? Trying to drag all his fishing trophies into heaven? Ho, yes, he's Richard Carlin, the professional fisherman.

Here comes Cheryl Clevenger, the great mortician. She had a great problem; she was worried that there were no experienced morticians to preserve her body.

Ronnie and Elaine have just arrived. On earth they received an award for being the parents of the year. They have 12 children. They are very sensible, they believe they are cheaper by the dozen. Did we say sensible?

Here we have Beth Flair. Who is known for applying the board of education to the seat of learning.

Well here comes Marvin Fields. He was elected engineer Flunkie of the year. His advanced Rocket design when tried on the moon didn't take off. It pushed the moon out of orbit.

It can't be, but it is. Connie Fletcher has just come through the gates. The last we heard of her on earth, she was Secretary of State and eloped to Venus with the president.

Who's coming? Why it's Charla Hughs. I wonder if she ever got a better job in her career of nursing than the one she had in the mental hospital?

Here comes someone with a strong stride; it looks like he was planning to come here. Why, its Roger Hughes. I remember how he became famous in the World History. He was known as the man who brain washed Krushchev.

Hark, we have another noble Senior coming through the gates. Judy McQuerry. She became well known in her high school career because she received so much training in debate while working in the office.

Here comes a someone. He's having a little trouble. He must have tried to bring his hot rod through the gates. Eddie Popp. While he was on earth, he was noted for his famous song, "Silently".

Well, Well, here comes Carol Stimpert. The last we heard of her, she was trying to cross an atomic bomb and a shotgun for use against the Martians. In fact, that was the last anyone ever heard of her!

Here comes someone who is needing a lot of help to get through. There he is. Whew! He almost didn't make it. Well, it's Chuck Scheib! He was the only educated wolf on earth who finally got his fox degree. (SLY)

Well here comes Kenney Tilley with a baseball bat on his shoulder. He must have changed jobs. The last we heard he was coaching a girls Judo team. Qualifications for membership, 38-22-36!

Wow! Wouldn't you know it? Here comes Lester Van Huss. He was director of the famous modeling Studio. It's amazing what they can do with clay these days.

Oh, No. I can't believe it. Is that Cloma Wilson coming through the gates? She was famed as an actress on earth. She never did better acting though, than when she didn't have a lesson done in Mr. Hester's class and would start an argument to stall for time.

Let's see, It doesn't seem like we are all here. Oh, there comes the other one. Last but not least? Frand Yeoman. He was the journalist who became famous for the story he wrote on the side of the empire state building. When people jumped, they had something to read on the way down.

That is the story of the Senior Class of 1962. The Universe will long remember what they accomplished. These deeds of the great, honorable, excellent, exalted, mighty, outstanding, magnificant and modest Seniors of 1962 shall not perish from the earth.

Band Tag Day Raises $473

A total of $473 was received from Band Tag Day April 11, amounting to $47.50 which will be used to pay for four complete band uniforms and extra parts.

Because the enrollment of band students had exceeded the number of uniforms available, the tag day was held to raise money for the new uniforms.

Band members and parents were stationed at corners of city streets.

"Receipts from the tag day will more than pay for the uniforms," says Mrs. J. L. Virger.

The Kayettes, during the 61-62 year, have been striving toward their goal of 2,000 points. In serving our community our projects have included hospital favors and Christmas caroling. World and national projects included Care, March of Dimes, and Christmas gifts for needy children. For parties we had a Christmas chile supper and a Valentine gift exchange with our heart sisters. We feel that we have had a successful year of work and are looking forward to next year.
